PARENTS FEEDBACK ANALYSIS REPORT 2021-2022

The survey results reveal a spectrum of parental satisfaction with various aspects of the institution. Communication, information about children's progress, and accessibility of teachers and staff received a balance of positive and negative ratings, with slightly more parents expressing satisfaction. However, addressing safety concerns and meeting individual needs shows higher dissatisfaction, indicating areas needing attention. The handling of disciplinary matters received mixed feedback, with a lean towards dissatisfaction. Promoting a positive and inclusive learning environment and addressing diversity and inclusion also garnered varied responses, with notable dissatisfaction. Satisfaction with extracurricular activities showed significant dissatisfaction, although a substantial number of parents were pleased. Overall, while there are strengths, particularly in communication and teacher accessibility, the institution needs to improve its handling of safety, inclusivity, and extracurricular offerings to better meet parental expectations.
